CUBA CALLS HALT ON PANICKY ARTICLES

President Zavas Warns Havana Papers to Beware of Shaking Confidence.

SOLVENT BANKS INJURED

Government to Take Other Steps if Hurtful Publicity Continues.

HAVANA, May 30.—Steps have been taken by the Cuban Government with the object of preventing disturbance of financial confidence through ill advised publicity, it was stated this afternoon to the Associated Press by the Cuban Secretary of the Treasury, Sebastlen Gelabert.

Through his own initiative, not in con-bert. Through his own initiative, not in consequence of any protest by the foreign banks, President Zayas several days ago conferred with the directors of the Havana newspapers, according to Secretary Gelabert, and urged the advisability of extreme care regarding the publication of articles treating on the financial situation. Should the newspapers discended the Government's request, the Secretary continued, such other methods as might be deemed necessary would be taken to protect Cuban financial institutions.

taken to protect closal manufactures.

Representatives of the leading North American and Canadian banks, who recently conferred with the President, were assured that the Government was disposed to give them every guarantee, without the necessity of presenting a formal complaint or adopting measures such as temporary suspension of operations, which it was reported the leading banks considered they might be impelled to take.

to take. Secretary Gelabert pointed out that the Government had initiated this campulan as a result of the recent suspension of payment by several banks, which, he asserted, were absolutely solvent, but which could not muster sufficient currency to meet runs by depositors whose confidence had been shaken through newspaper stories on the banking situation.

"Publicity which unjustly undermines confidence and cruses a stampede among depositors not only is an offence against the institutions actually damaged, but a heath of the confidence against the institutions actually damaged. the institutors actuary datasets. The crime against the entire nation, for both the financial system and the welfare of the republic are affected," Senor Gelabert declared, "and the Government has voluntarily adopted efficient measures to meet this evil with ut awaiting suggestions or threats from outside sources."

Major-Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, representing the United States Government, who had not conferred with President Zayas since the President's inauguration on May 20, began a series of conferences with the Chief Executive this afternoon. It is expected that these will last two
